

Youth

Journalists

Filmmakers

Educators

Designers

Developers

Want to Learn!

Want to Make!

V
I
R
T
U
A
L

Fireside Chat

Thoughtful, informal presentation by a subject matter expert followed by discussion. Learn about a program or webmaking skill. 1hr, monthly.

Web Maker Call

Team-driven planning meeting with updates from projects. Help shape a program, develop new solutions, and stay in touch. 1hr, weekly.

Peer Assist

Real-time problem-solving by peers. A challenge is briefly explained; group gives targeted feedback. 15min, as needed.

S
M
A
L
L

Hacktivity

A simple learning activity adaptable for the classroom, a workshop, or similar environment. Suitable for one-offs or part of a curriculum. 15min - 2hr, frequently.

Meet Up

A fun, local gathering for people with shared interests in webmaking. Meet friends, new and old, to discuss projects in a relaxed setting. 2hr - until drinks run out, monthly.

Idea Jam

Quick-fire session to address real web challenges. Napkin-sketch solutions and share insights with peers across the globe. 1hr - 1 day, frequently.

M
E
D
I
U
M

Science Fair

A lively, curated fair filled with demo tables hosted by smart people. Good conversation and drinks fuel participants throughout the evening. 3hr, quarterly.

Hack Jam

Design, code, and learn at targeted webmaking events. Skills are paired with hacktivities and challenges, guided by easy-to-use toolkits. 2hr - 2 days, frequently.

Sprints

Get to done fast. Rally your peers and build dedicated solutions that scratch your collective itch. A focused fest to power a project. 1 - 2 days, quarterly.

L
A
R
G
E

Pop-Up

A buzzing tent within a larger event featuring table-top hacktivities. Bite-sized model of Mozilla programs in partnership with local institutions. 1 - 3 days, quarterly.

Charrette

A gathering of local organizations, educators, philanthropists and others to craft a strategic plan to launch sustained webmaker programs. 1 - 2 days, yearly.

Camp

A purposeful mini-festival where community members, staff, and beta-testers sprint on code, design new curricula, and play Werewolf. 1 - 3 days, quarterly.

X
-
L
A
R
G
E

Mozilla Festival!

A yearly celebration of webmaking that blends the activities above and then some. It brings together hundreds of passionate people to explore the open web and to chart the way for the future.